
Exercise 1 page no.2 Say whether these sentences are declarative (D), imperative (I), exclamatory (E) or Interrogative (In).

- a.(In)
- b. (D)
- c. (In)
- d. (E)
- e. (I)
- f. (D)
- g. (I)
- h. (I)
- i. (E)
- j. (D)

Exercise 2 page no.3 Change these sentences according to the instructions in brackets.

- a. You are a fool. (Old book)
- a. You are very clever.(new book)
- b. You please close the door.
- c. Will you do that again?
- d. Your name is Neera.
- e. Everyone wants to be rich.
- f. Would you give me some chocolate?
- g. If only I could leave the house!
- h. The pencil was not on the table.

St.Marys Co-ed School, Harda
Class-VI
Subject- English Grammar
Lesson-2 Subject and Predicate

Warm- Up page no.4

Read these sentences and Mark what the highlighted part of each sentence is.

- a. Subject
- b. Neither
- c. Subject
- d. Predicate
- e. Subject
- f. Neither
- g. Predicate
- h. Subject
- i. Subject

Exercise 1. Circle the subjects and Underline the predicates in these sentences.

(NOTE: In your books, circle the subjects and Underline the predicates seeing the answers from the table below).

	Subjects	Predicates
a.	Life	is full of surprised.
b.	Your parents and teachers	are your well-wishers
c.	I	have bought a shirt for my father.
d.	Radhika	wants to become an astronaut.
e.	Amitav	is not only famous but also very humble man.
f.	Snakes	are afraid of mongooses.
g.	The witch	flew on the bloomstick.
h.	The weaver	was designing a special saree.
i	The dog	chewed on the dry bone.
j.	Alice	went down the rabbit's hole.

Exercise 2. Read the sentences. Underline the compound subjects and circle the compound predicates.

- a. Compound Subjects: Intelligent,wit and humour
- b. Compound Predicates: got up, walked to the stall and ordered a cold coffee and s sandwich for herself.

- c. Compound Subjects : Food, clean air, water and a house
- d. Compound Subjects : Rajni, Kirti and Anne
- e. Compound Predicates : sings a lullaby or hums a gentle tune to put the baby to sleep.
- f. Compound Predicates : joined the group and soon became a favourite of the group.
- g. Compound Predicates : called me yesterday and informed me about the programme.
- h. Compound Predicates : barked and ran after the postman.
- i. Compound Subjects : Tina and Maya
- j. Compound Subjects : Mr Rai or Kashyap
- k. Compound Predicates : flew overhead and formed a V- shaped flight formation.
- l. Compound Predicates : lost his watch but found his new cap.(new book)

Exercise 3. Complete the sentences with suitable compound subjects.

- a. My brother and sister
- b. Mahesh and Kavita
- c. John, Tom, Phil and Jack
- d. My uncle and aunty
- e. John and Rita
- f. Smith and Haley
- g. Varun and his father
- h. Natasha and Meena
- i. Class teacher and Miss Katy
- j. The Gardener and his wife

Note: students you can fill the blanks with any compound subjects which are suitable to the given predicates.

Exercise 4. Complete the sentences with suitable compound predicates.

- a. swung her magic wand and cured the little boy's disease.
- b. was famous and is remembered.
- c. are very beautiful and colourful.
- d. was an English poet, playwright and actor.
- e. won the football match and broke many records.
- f. is very cheerful, kind and good hearted girl.
- g. are very helpful and caring for each other.
- h. is so big and gives soothing sound.
- i. ran after the thief and managed to get the stolen wallet back.
- j. charmed everyone with it's song and reminded about the beauty of nature.

Exercise 1 page no.9 Identify the phrases (P) and clauses (C).

- a. P
- b. P
- c. C
- d. C
- e. C
- f. P
- g. P
- h. C
- i. C
- j. C

Exercise 2 Underline the main clause and circle the subordinate clause in these sentences.

- a. Main clause- King George spoke

Subordinate clause- as though he was born to rule.

- b. Main clause- They felt

Subordinate clause- that the new leader will make good changes.

- c. Main clause- nobody could recognise him.

Subordinate clause- When at last he returned to his country

- d. Main clause- The newspaper will tell us tomorrow

Subordinate clause- what the world does today.

- e. Main clause- I could not tolerate

Subordinate clause- what he said because it was very rude.

- f. Main clause- This is the hotel

Subordinate clause- where we had stayed.

- g. Main clause- They abandoned the building

Subordinate clause- after it caught fire.

- h. Main clause- he was honest.

Subordinate clause- Although he was poor,

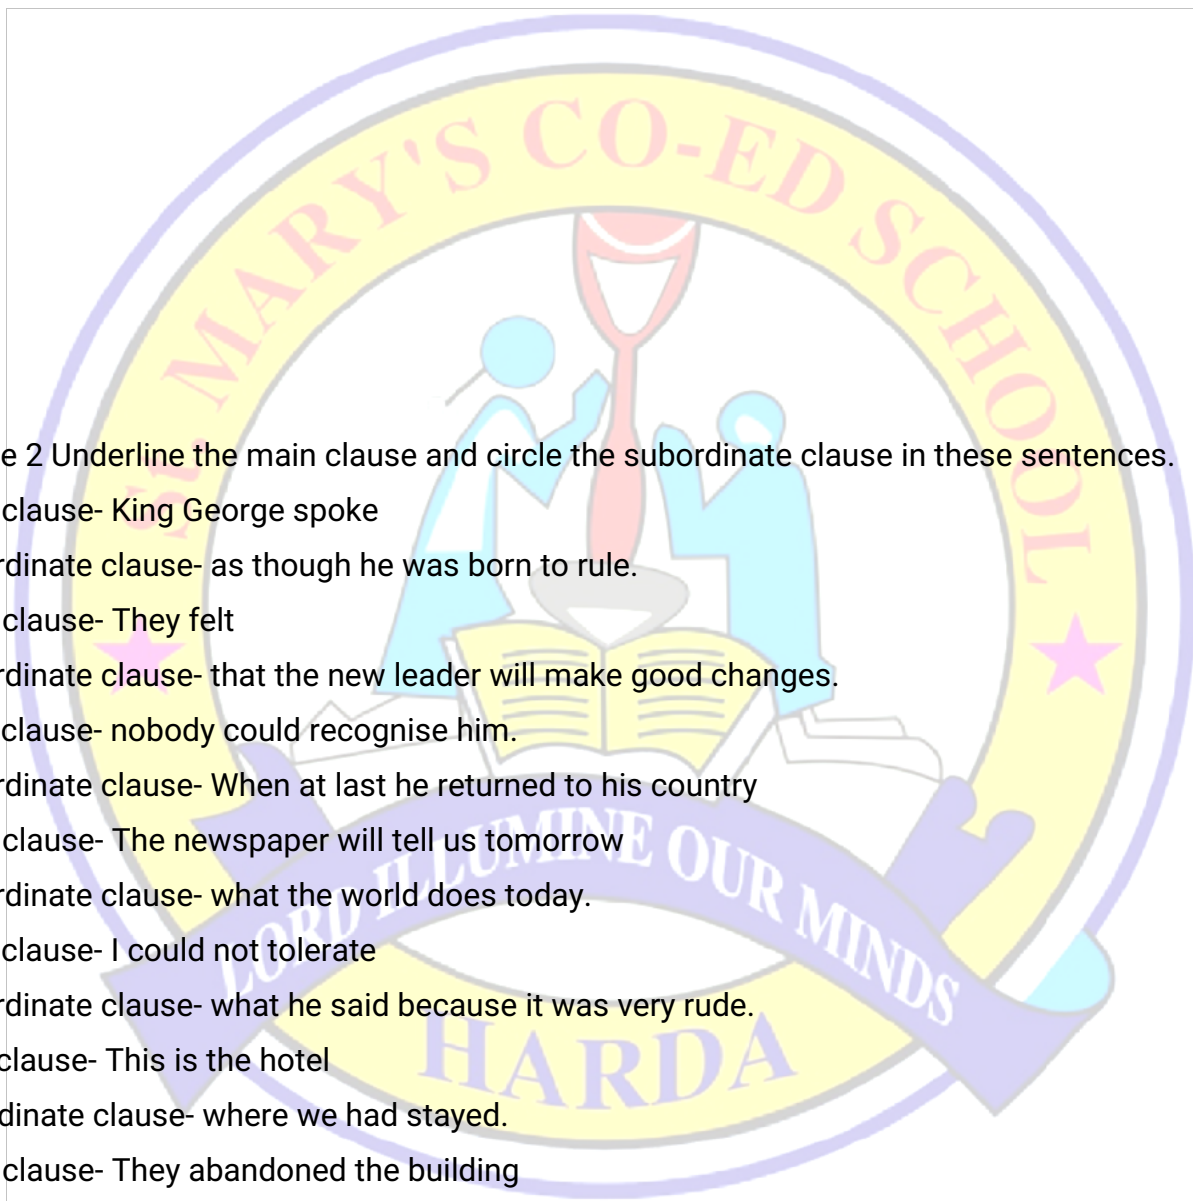

- i. Main clause- The dog did not budge

Subordinate clause- until its master came along.

- j. Main clause- The performance is by the artists

Subordinate clause- who have come from Vienna.

- k. Main clause- She leaned against the wall

Subordinate clause- so that she could hear the sound clearly.

I. Main clause- She froze.

Subordinate clause- When the lights went out,

