

A. Fill in the blanks (page no.21)

1. approachable
2. flaunt, position
3. knowledgeable
4. understand
5. kindness, abilities

B. Answer the following:-

1. How do humble people behave?

Ans:- Humble people are always very gentle towards other and very modest in their behaviour. They are compassionate, considerate to their subordinates and respect the sentiments and requirement of the needy people.

2. What lesson did the boy learn from the tree laden with fruits?

Ans: The boy learnt from the tree laden with fruits that trees laden with fruits never stand straight. People who are actually knowledgeable and powerful are like the trees bears full of fruits. They always humble towards the others. They never try to show off like the arrogant straight trees.

3. What lesson do you learn from Confucius?

Ans: We learnt from the Confucius that even we are the one who are master of all need to take advice from the others. If we can acquire more wisdom. As long as we are willing to bow our heads to learn from others we can obtain wisdom anywhere.

4. Why did Socrates ask the student to point out his land on the map?

Ans: Socrates, in fact wanted to give some knowledge to the boasting student. He wanted to make it known to the rich student whatever a person possess is only a drop in the sea and not worthy of mentioning when compared with the world and the universe.

5. How can you say that Dr Kalam was a humble man?

Ans: We can say that Dr Kalam was really a humble man from his behaviour and actions. He always valued the work of others and reciprocated their efforts. He even did the work his busy subordinate has to do by himself.

